

FINAL FULL PAPER GUIDELINES: WERA FOCAL MEETING, 5-8 AUGUST, TOKYO, JAPAN

The 2019 WERA Focal meeting in Tokyo, Japan is around the corner.

Final papers for all submissions, including the underlying paper for a poster presentation, must be uploaded in pdf-format via the submission platform (www.conftool.org/wera2019) by 1 July 2019 23:59 Tokyo Time (GMT +9). Final papers will be eligible for reviews and possible publication in a future volume of WERA's Global Perspectives on Education Research.

Please pay attention to the following final paper guidelines:

- Does the paper address a clearly specified research question(s)?
- Is the paper appropriately linked to the larger research literature?
- Are the issues that drive the paper situated in an international, cross-cultural, or comparative framework?
- Do the conclusions and implications presented in the paper consider future research directions from a worldwide perspective?

Your paper should be as clear and concise as possible. The paper should not exceed 8,000 words with an abstract of approximately 200 words. We ask also that you include no more than 50 references, citing those most important and relevant to your points. Please use APA style (www.apastyle.org) for text and reference formatting. Please submit your final paper via the submission platform (www.conftool.org/wera2019) by 1 July 2019 23:59 Tokyo Time (GMT +9)

If you have additional questions or concerns, please contact the 2019 WERA Focal meeting at admin@wera-tokyo.com.
